

RUBBER

Prices of a Month Reviewed.

Manufacturers Have Bought Freely.

"Jobs" Open In the Rubber Trade.

Salesmen Are Much In Demand.

The India Rubber World's review of trade says that the general tendency of prices during the past month has been slightly downward, ending in a level 2 or 3 points lower than in August, with a smaller decline in some others. Para rubber has been arriving in the primary markets at a very good rate, but the principal receipts so far this season have resulted from last season's collections. Hence, it is too early to determine the effect upon the production of rubber by the depression in the rubber states of which so many rumors have come to hand. Judging by past experience, it will be well on into next year before the total production of the current season can be known. Manufacturers have bought rather freely during the latter part of the month just closed.

Here are some of the places advertised "open" in a rubber trade paper: "Man to make cements," "man to take charge of hose department," "belting salesman," "resourceful chemist," "salesman on commission," "compounding chemist," "experienced salesman," "salesman for New England territory," "molded goods salesman for Boston."

The zeal with which secrets in the rubber business are guarded from outsiders is exceeded only by the sharpness with which the outsiders attempt to get onto the curves of the inventors. New compounds, giving new shades of color or different degrees of resilience or resistance are watched for eagerly. When such a new article comes, outsiders eagerly buy specimens and then cut them up and carefully analyze, chemically, the elements that go to make them up.

While patents cover most of the preparations and compounds that make competition in the rubber business so keen, there are often times when competitors are enabled to get a direct line on the efforts of some of their neighbors and join them in making money from inventions.

It Is Nice

REPORTS AND PETITIONS.

Poor Director Kendall reported the total amount of expenditures in his department during September as $286.54.

The bond of Justice H. S. Falor, with Osborne Esgate and A. E. Kilg as sureties, was accepted. It is for $1,000. Mr. Langdon—Sidewalks in N. Union st. between Park and Perkins sts. are in bad shape.

Dr. Hill—N. Howard st., at Glenwood ave. is in need of repairs.

Mr. Winum—Sidewalk on north side of W. Market st. between Canal st. and the canal, is in bad shape; new railing should also be placed on the bridge across the canal.

Mr. Foster—Sidewalks along the Viaduct, from Main to Bowery, should be replaced.

Mr. Linehan—The Exchange st. bridge has not yet been repaired.

Mr. Walker—Sidewalk in front of Falor's residence, in S. Main st., should be repaired; Wolf st. improvement should be completed before winter begins. [Commissioner McFarland announced that it would, that the contractors, Kidder & McCourt, had told him the job would soon be completed.]

Mr. Pliske—Grant st. should be filled in along street car tracks; Washington st. has been left in bad shape by the sewer contractors; property owners in Miller ave. want vapor lights exchanged for two arc lights.

BIG FOUR

Will Oppose Akron Route.

Plans For Continuance of the Latter.

The Erie, Louisville & Nashville and Pennsylvania combination which has been operating through trains from the southwest to Buffalo, under the name of the "Akron Route," are considering the advisability of making a permanent feature of the service, and it is said will ask for a greater differential out of Columbus, Cincinnati and other gateways.

The present intention is to put into effect a change of time after the close of the Pan-American exposition, when two of the three trains will be taken off. The C. A. & C. will turn over to the Erie at Akron each morning a through car from the southwest which will be carried to Buffalo. It is said that the hope of gaining southern business has been sufficient to keep the service in force. A consideration by no means secondary is the maintenance of service to Chautauque lake points. It is said that the Big Four is figuring upon the effects of this encroachment of their territory and has decided to combat the desire of the promoters of this route for a differential fare.

The commencement of the series of contests for the championship will attract many society folks to the links. The club house capacity has already been engaged. New Yorkers rely upon the ability of Miss Genevieve Hecker to make the best showing for them.

Condemned and Convicted— Murderers Depise Czolgosz.

Auburn, Oct. 8.—(Spl.)—Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, is having a hard time.

The assassin is hated by other occupants condemned, who consider themselves in another class. Egnor, the convict who killed Benedict, the former keeper, has obtained a picture of McKinley, which he has framed and draped in mourning. His cell is between Czolgosz's and the death chamber. He has planned to hang the picture facing outward at the grating of the cell door and to dare the assassin to look at it as he goes by on the dead march, Oct. 28.

Warden Mead has sent out orders to gate keepers not to allow any man to enter the prison who is unknown to him unless properly vouched for or has undoubted credentials.

Indians Growing Up-to-Date— Rent Lands and Go the Pace.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(Spl.)—The Indians of the northwest lifted from his state of savagery by association with the white man, and then in danger of reverting to his original state because he cannot stand prosperity, is the picture drawn by Morton Miller, of the Field Columbian Museum, who has just returned to Chicago after a prolonged stay among the redmen.

According to Mr. Miller, the Shoshonians are renting their land to white men and diving at a rapid pace on the proceeds. The Indians live in houses which have supplanted their primitive tepees that were in use before prosperity struck them, and exhibit an unsurpassed degree of indolence.

Councilmen Will Try to Settle Strike.

On motion of Mr. Walker and endorsement of all Councilmen present, at Monday night's meeting, President Koons appointed a committee to endeavor to settle the electrical workers' strike by arbitration. Members of this committee are Messrs. Walker, Gauthier, and Martin. In presenting the motion, Mr. Walker said, "Over our heads tonight are many electrical wires that are in bad shape, uncleaned for by competent workmen. The lives of our citizens are in danger, and in the name of public safety we should take a hand in this matter and try to have the old men restored to their places."

TOO FUNNY.

Audience Laughed and Almost Cried.

There were sore sides from continued laughter after the performance of the "Man From Mexico" at the Grand opera house Monday night. The situations themselves are too full of possibilities for any but an exceptionally poor company to fall to take advantage of them and the company that presented the show here was good, in every particular.

Mr. Louis Peters, in the name role of the play, was funny. He has facial expressions and the business of the play completely at his command. The greatest regret was that there was so small an audience there to see the show. They made up, in enthusiasm and risibility, however, what they lacked in numbers, and the house was kept on the verge of tears from continued laughter throughout the show.

A LITTLE BIG WASTE.

DISTINGUISH between economy and wisdom. Sitting at home to save shoe-leather is economy, but it is scarcely wisdom. In the same way, doing without Ivory Soap is economy but it isn't wise; your risks are greater than all possible saving. Every cheap soap contains free alkali. Now, free alkali will eat its way through the new oil cloth on the kitchen floor. Imagine, then, what it will do in a single Monday's washing! Is such economy wise?

SUCCESS IS PREDICTED FOR THE NIGHT SCHOOL.

It Opened Monday Night With an Attendance of Earnest Workers.

Night school opened at the High school Monday night. While the number at the opening session was not as large as the number who attended on the opening night last year, there is an encouraging prospect, that pleases the persons in charge of the school.

The attendance at the opening session was between 90 and 70. Some of these were persons who attended the school last year and there was quite a large proportion of new members. Said Superintendent Hotchkiss, Tuesday morning: "There is every prospect of a successful school this term."

While the attendance was not as large as at the first session last year, I believe the students will be steady in attendance and that they are earnest in their purposes.

"There is a good number who were educated in other countries and who have but a very imperfect knowledge of English. The class in English already numbers 20.

"The aim of the night school is to give instruction in the branches that would ordinarily have been learned in the common schools, but which have been neglected by the students who come to us."
